THE LAKE ROUTE.

The Requirements Necessary to Its Successful Navigation

TO RECEIVE ATTENTION OF CONGRESS.

Report of a Representative of the United Press who Accompanied an Exploring Party Over the Route from Duluth to Buffalo.

WASHINGTON, Aug 31 —The commerce of the great lakes is a subject which will probably receive more attention during the next congress than has ever before been devoted to it The fact that already a steamer laden with goods and 2,000 bushels of grain has made a successful trip from Duluth to Liverpool adds to the government interest in the matter

With a view to personally inspecting the requirements necessary for the successful navigation of those vast inland seas, a number of congressmen and Washington correspondents have visited the waters, during the summer as guests of the Vessel Owners' Association of Cleveland, O A party of correspondents has just returned from a tour of the American chain of lakes from Duluth to Buffalo, taking in lakes Superior, Michigan, Huron St Clair and Erie, a distance of 2 617 miles A representative of the United Press who accompanied the party, writes of the commerce and its needs as follows

"There are now engaged in commerce on the lakes more than 2,000 vessels, representing an investment of upwards of $50,000 000 The average carrying capacity of the steamers plying these waters is about 2,500 tons. Owing to the dangerous obstructions over which the vessels have to pass, double bottoms are being put in all new ships, to obviate their total loss in case they strike the rocks Not long since one of the new steamers picked up a bowlder from the bottom and carried it several hundred miles without further injury than an immense hole in the outer or protective bottom. At present it is not possible for the vessels to load to their full carrying capacity on account of dangerous obstructions in the lakes and rivers The "Soo" canal at Sault de Ste Marie, through which all commerce for the northwest has to pass, will only permit a draught of fifteen feet five or six inches, there being but sixteen feet of water in the great lock at that point. Nearly all the coal transported to the northwest passes over that route, and should anything serious happen to the single lock now in use, a coal famine in the extreme northwest would probably follow The present lock has been in operation since September 1, 1881 A second lock is in course of construction on the American side, and another is being constructed on the Canadian side of the river When these are completed facilities for the passage of vessels will be more nearly in accord with the existing requirements

'There is great need of immediate dredging and blasting along the route of vessels in the lakes and rivers On the route from Cleveland to Duluth at Point Pole, on the Canadian side of the river, there are a number of dangerous bowlders, and at Colchester in the Detroit river, there are dangerous wrecks and rocks At Bar Point, at the mouth of the Detroit river, the obstructions are numerous, consisting principally of sand and mud At that point vessels ground frequently, and especially in the autumn, when the water is more shallow than during the summer months At Lime Kiln crossing, and thence to Ballard s reef, there are about 4 miles of rocky bottom and the water is very shallow From Ballard's reef to Grosse point there is good water Beyond Grosse point, however, in Lake St Clair, about 5 miles from the mouth of the St Clair river to St Clair flats, obstructions of sand and mud render navigation extremely dangerous The striking of all loaded vessels crossing there is very perceptible Congress, it is said will be urged to dredge the course without further delay

"Opposite Port Huron the sand bar, caused by the Grand Trunk railway dredgers, has formed into a dangerous one, and grout care must be exercised in passing it At Star island, above St Clair lake the American channel is in such bad condition that all vessels are compelled to travel through the Canadian channel At Fort Gratiot rocks and old wrecks abound to the discomfort of mariners while off Sailors' Encampment, 'Soo" river, navigation is perilous The absence of lights and buoys in that locality render running at night so dangerous that it is seldom attempted Vessels reaching either side of the river at dusk, tie up until daybreak The masters claim that there is nothing like the draught of water given on the charts to be found off the Encampment

"The government work of cutting through a new channel off Sugar island is considered of great importance, and when completed will greatly facilitate navigation The new channel will shorten the present course by about 15 miles. The slow progress which is being made, it is claimed is due to insufficient appropriations, the work accomplished one year being destroyed before the next year's work can be begun

"At Duluth the magnificent basin between that city and Superior can not be utilized to any extent on account of its extreme shallowness. Small tugs are continually running hard aground there The bottom is composed almost entirely of mud, and could easily be cleared by dredgers. At South Chicago, Lake Michigan, dredging is very badly needed in the vicinity of the great iron ore wharves. At Peninsula Point, about ten miles southeast of Escanaba, there are two shoals running out into the lake which, especially at night, while avoiding one a vessel is very apt to strike the other, owing to the entire absence of lights Off Gravity and Poverty islands there are shoals, neither of which is visible on the charts. Stake buoys at these places, which cannot be seen at night, are all the mariners have to guide them The course run to the south of Beaver island is extremely rough in bad weather, and a light is greatly needed off Squaw island in order that the northern passage may be followed and the roughness thereby avoided.

"At White Shoal, the lightship (which it is claimed is often adrift in bad weather) should be replaced by a lighthouse Other points where the masters are anxious to have lights are Round island and Middle island—the turning point between Presque Isle and Thunder Bay islands—Lake Huron Several wrecks now lie along the route of navigation which, the masters claim, are entirely due to lack of lights."

THE WAR IS OVER.

The Congressionalists to Reorganise the Chilian Government.

RECOGNITION BY ENGLAND ASSURED.

Balmaceda's Future as an Exile—His Private Nest Well Feathered by Money Sent to London to Provide for Emergencies.

LONDON, Aug 31 —The Chilian war is now acknowledged to be over, and it is stated semi-officially that as soon as the government of Chili is reorganized by the victorious congressionalists, the new administration will be recognized by Great Britain So far the only official advices from Chili have been the communications laid before the British foreign office from the congressional agents here announcing the surrender of Valparaiso and the triumph of the congressional forces

As this will not necessarily mean the end of the war, from an official point of view, no action will probably be taken here for the present A recognition of belligerency would be useless, and is not probably desired by the successful insurgents, as that would imply what they now pretend to deny—the right of Balmaceda to belligerency, or that even any war is being carried on

It is expected here that Balmaceda will join the list of exiled ex-monarchs and ex presidents in France His family left Santiago some months ago and are said to be in Buenos Ayres awaiting his arrival in the event of defeat He is also said to have forwarded about half a million dollars in gold to London two months ago on his own private account and presumably realized from his private fortune, which was formerly large

The Chilian ministry in London has nothing to say for the past two days Both here and in Paris the ministers have been loyal adherents of Balmaceda, and they can expect no favors from the new rulers of Chili It was through the earnest efforts of the minister to France, Senor Antunez, that the French government ultimately released to Balmaceda the two iron-clad cruisers Presidente Pinto and Presidente Errazuriz, the arrival of which in Chili would have given a decided advantage to Balmaceda on the sea Senor Antunez, therefore, will probably be among the first recalled to give place to a congressional representative

A prominent merchant in the Chilian trade asserts that the dispatches of Thursday, announcing the surrender of the congressionalists and the complete triumph of Balmaceda were probably concocted in Lima without the knowledge of Balmaceda or his cabinet This merchant stated that Balmaceda had agents in Lima who thought it best to answer in this way the demand of the outside world for news, and especially the clamorous interest of Peruvians, and, therefore, published an announcement for which they had no authority, but which they expected to prove true

Worn-out, "run-down," feeble women, need Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It builds them up. It's a powerful, restorative tonic, or strength-giver—free from alcohol and injurious drugs. The entire system is renewed and invigorated. It improves digestion, enriches the blood, dispels aches and pains, gives refreshing sleep, and restores flesh and strength. As a soothing nervine, it allays and subdues hysteria, spasms, and all the nervous symptoms commonly attendant upon functional and organic disease. It's the only guaranteed medicine for women. It does what is promised—or it asks nothing. It gives satisfaction, in every case, or the money paid for it is refunded.

That's the way its makers prove their faith in it. Contains no alcohol to inebriate; no syrup or sugar to derange digestion; a legitimate medicine, not a beverage. Purely vegetable and perfectly harmless in any condition of the system.

Major McKinley on Silver.

New York Press: When Major McKinley was nominated for Governor of Ohio by the Republicans, one of the leading Democratic papers of the county declared that he would be defeated because he had no versatility and was simply a man with a hobby who had made protection his pet theory to the utter exclusion of knowledge on all other subjects. The idea conveyed was that he was not well qualified for an executive office. When the Democrats made the grievous mistake of putting a free and unlimited silver coinage plank in their platform, Governor Campbell and Democratic newspapers were disposed to make light of it and declare that the finance question would be sunk in the background in Ohio by the tariff issue, and that in any event Major McKinley was not competent to discuss the silver question and make it an issue.

These flighty prophets must have felt exceedingly small in their own eyes when they read Major McKinley's speech in opening his campaign on Saturday night last. Not only has he taken up the silver question, but he has made it an issue of the Ohio campaign second only to the tariff, and has shown his competency to handle it to be no less than his competency on the subject of protection. In other words, when Democrats set Major McKinley down as an ignoramus on all other great lines of policies and politics except the tariff, they set themselves down as the ignoramuses they pictured him. It is a turning of the tables such as is characteristic of the champion of protection, and marks the beginning of a progressively victorious canvass and campaign.

It may be noted in this connection that the quotation of the letter of Mr. Cleveland to General A. J. Warner, in which Cleveland advocated the suspension of the purchase and coinage of silver by which Major McKinley arrayed the leading Democrat of the country against the free silver Ohioans, was a telling stroke which the Democrats did not expect from him. They will find as the canvass goes on that he is quite capable of dealing many more such blows.

Broken Promises.

Capt. M. H. Butler one of the leading labor men of Pennsylvania who had much to do in turning the labor vote of that state to Pattison for Gov. on the promise that the Democrats in return for the labor vote would support certain measures that the labor people wanted, Capt. Butler now says that Gov. Pattison and his party betrayed the labor people and have refuses to urge a constitutional convention, which was one chief desire, while the Republicans did urge and grant it and also recognized the right of labor by supporting several, good labor bills.

This is the history of all Democratic special promises. When that party has secured the vote of any class of voters and has succeeded to power these promises are always forgotten and it is not complimently to Capt. Butler's good sense that with the mass of Democratic broken promises before him he should enter into any sort of negotiations with that party's leaders.

THERE has been no such a crop year as this for years. The horn of plenty has poured out bounteous beneficence on the work of the husbandman in almost every part of our land. The consumer of these products stands ready to buy them at good figures, which presents a condition that makes glad the hearts of the most independent and highly respected farmers on earth—the American farmers.

IN the past quarter of a century the United States has increased its cotton out-put to the extent of 280 per cent., while the world's cotton consumption has grown only 117 per cent in the interval. The increase in production, too, in this country continues. While these conditions remain prices must necessarily be low.

WONDERFUL changes do, however, occur in this country. Poor old Kentucky has reached a point where she can no longer elect a Democratic governor by a majority.

American Tin in Decatur.

In spite of the falsehoods and obstructions indulged in by American free traders the business of pushing ahead the tin industry in this country still goes on. It is anything but complimentary to American patriotism that it can be truthfully said of a set of its partisans that they have, in every case where an attempt has been made in this country to establish new industries, objected to, opposed and endeavored to prevent the establishment of the same. This has been true in the case of steel rails, sheet iron, galvanized iron, plate glass and many other industries which have been built up and which now employ millions of workmen who buy what our farmers have to sell.

The same is true of the effort to establish the tin industry here, but those who have faith in the patriotism and good sense of a majority of the people, who cannot be led by these false and dangerous teachers, have invested their money in this new industry and have been pushing it ahead in spite of the great Tin Plate Syndicate of Wales and its free trade allies in America. These anti-Americans have claimed tin plate could not be made here; and when protectionists met that sort of nonsense by claiming that what England can do Americans can do, they met the statement with the cry, "Show us the results," before the new duty came into effect and before the plants could be erected. The fact that seventeen different firms were erecting tin plate plants on American soil served only as material for burlesqueing the attempt. But the business of establishing these plants and the manufacture of American tin plate has been going on steadily, and Decatur has received in less than 60 days from the time the duty on tin plate went into effect, a consignment of roofing tin or terne plate, made wholly of American material, by P. H. Laufman, at Apollo, Penn., with the guaranty that two sheets will be given for every defective one.

Sorgen & Stewart have ordered this roofing tin and are using it in a roof at the Decatur coffin factory. The plate is better than the same grade of English plate. It has a heavier coat and the plate proper is better annealed, being more pliable and much softer and tougher. These gentlemen pose to stand by American tin plate and are now ready to make contracts for roofing with it in Decatur. But this is not all. The free traders and tin peddlers have told us that the increased duty would be added to the cost and the American people would be robbed by the tariff on tin whenever they bought an article made of that material. The REPUBLICAN told the people that prediction would not be realized, and that within two years from the time our American plants began the manufacture of tin the people would buy it cheaper than they ever bought tin on American soil. It has come earlier than the REPUBLICAN predicted. Sorgen & Stewart bought the assignment of American made terne plate for $2.50 a box less than the same grade of Welsh terne plate can be bought. These are facts that no free trader can get around. He may feel sorry and disappointed at the genius and prosperity of his country under the Republican American protective tariff, but he must stand and take his medicine, no matter how nauseating it may be to him. One year ago the Democratic free trade candidate for Congress stood in the court room in Decatur and burlesqued the new tariff on tin plate, calling it "a tariff to beget an industry." To-day American tinplate has won its way to Decatur at $2.50 less a box than the same grade of American free traders' Welsh tin, and will retire that congressman at the next election, who was be gotten by the tin plate liars of this congressional district.

Deafness Can't Be Cured

by local applications, as they can not reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result; and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that we cannot cure by taking Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

Has Not Slept for Years.

Mr. A. Jackson, an old resident of Rusk, Texas, and manager of the magnificent new Hotel at Rusk, informs us he had not slept at night for years except in short naps, owing to incessant coughing. He was advised when very much run down to try Ballard's Horehound Syrup; he was immediately relieved of his Cough, and his rest improved to such a degree that he could sleep soundly all night. Mr. Jackson states: "I regard Ballard's Horehound Syrup superior to any Cough Syrup on the market, and its freedom from Opium and Morphine leaves no constipation after using it. For this reason alone I consider it the best Cough Syrup in the world for children. My lungs are now stronger than they have been for years. The Syrup is very soothing to the throat and lungs. A REPORT from Islesboro, Me., states that bluefish "drove thousands of mackerel into the caves."

THE following extract from a letter written by J. A. Starbuck, of Yorktown, Iowa, speaks for itself. "Two years ago, in harvest time, a young man came into my store and said that he had been binding wheat during the fornoon and was so bad with diarrhoea and colic pains, that he would have to lay off unless he could get relief. I took a bottle of your diarrhoea remedy from the shelf; gave him a dose; sold him the bottle and told him I would give him the money back if it did no good. He came in next morning and said that the single dose had done its work so well, that he not only kept up his place binding in the afternoon, but had worked all night; and had the price of the dose I gave him been three dollars, it would have been cheap. I will further say, keep on with your good work. You cannot recommend your medicine too highly. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is one of the greatest medicines of the age; it cannot be beat. Wishing you much success and prosperity which you richly deserve, I remain, truly your friend." For sale by W. F. Neisler, druggist d&w

An Outfit for Traveling.

A woman who has traveled a great deal abroad says: "A steamer trunk ought to hold all of one's baggage for a summer trip to Europe. In addition to a warm, loose flannel wrapper for cabin use and half a dozen changes of linen, all that is really required is a close fitting traveling suit of dark cloth or serge with toque to match sitting firmly on the head in case of a stiff breeze while upon the deck, while some prefer the less dressy worsted or velvet hood to protect the ears and throat; a short wrap of warm material, a long mackintosh to envelop the form during stormy weather, stout shoes and a light plaid to throw over the knees, either when seated upon the deck of a steamer or traveling around in an open carriage upon land.

"With this necessary outfit and a light summer silk for the warmer days of sight seeing, one is well equipped for the longest journey, and may travel at ease free from the anxiety attendant upon the possession of the usual list of trunks carried by most novices while upon a journey."—Boston Transcript.

The Vanderbilt System and Its Managers.

More than 7,000 miles of railroad are absolutely controlled and operated by the Vanderbilt family. The roads which are advertised as the "Vanderbilt system" are the New York Central and Hudson River, the Michigan Central, the Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, the West Shore, and the New York, Chicago and St. Louis. These six roads with their leased lines and the Rome, Watertown and Ogdensburg, which has been purchased by the Vanderbilts, have 7,300 miles of line and represent a capital stock of more than $150,000,000. Their bonded indebtedness will aggregate nearly $300,000,000. These roads are under the absolute control and personal direction of Cornelius Vanderbilt. As his principal aids in managing this property Cornelius Vanderbilt has surrounded himself with four brainy men. They are Chauncey M. Depew, John Newell, Henry B. Ledyard and Melville E. Ingalls.—Chicago Herald.

A Husband's Mistake.

Husbands too often permit wives, and parents their children, to suffer from headache, dizziness, neuralgia, sleeplessness, fits, nervousness, when by use of Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine such serious results could easily be prevented. Druggists everywhere say it gives universal satisfaction, and has an immense sale. Woodworth & Co., of Fort Wayne, Ind.; Snow & Co., of Syracuse, N. Y.; J. C. Wolf, Hillsdale, Mich., and hundreds of others say "it is the greatest seller they ever knew." It contains no opiates. Trial bottles and fine book on Nervous Diseases, free, at W. O. Armstrong's.

THE Chicago Wold's Fair people will place $300,000,000 insurance on the buildings and exhibits.

PARENTS who have young children will be interested in the experience of Mr Alex Moir, a prominent druggist at Britt Iowa. He says: "During the summer of 1882, my little girl, two years of age, was taken seriously ill with summer complaint; so common to children of that age. After being treated by a physician and getting no better, I took from my shelves a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. She felt relieved after the first dose, and in three days was entirely well." For sale by W. F. Neisler, druggist. d&w

Personal Notes.

Frank DeWitt Talmage, the son of the famous Brooklyn clergyman, has recently taken up lecturing as a profession. He is reported to have a fair share of eloquence, and many peculiar characteristics which, apparently, are rightfully his own by virtue of inheritance.

Bishop J. H. Vincent of Chautauqua fame has not been in good health for some time past. He is in constant demand as a lecturer, but it is doubtful if he will be able to lecture often in the coming season.

Ex-Senator Ingalls has decided to lecture this season, and the Redpath Lyceum which controls the engagement, has already filled almost every available date for him.

The Secret of Success.

W. C. Armstrong, druggist, believes that the secret of success is perseverance. Therefore they persist in keeping the finest line of perfumeries, toilet articles, cosmetics, drugs and chemicals on the market. They especially invite all persons who have palpitation, short breath, weak or hungry spells, pain in side or shoulder, oppression, night mare, dry cough, smothering, dropsy or heart disease to try Dr. Miles' unequaled New Heart Cure, before it is too late. It has the largest sale of any similar remedy. Fine book of testimonials free. Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is unsurpassed for sleeplessness, headache, fits, etc., and it contains no opiates.

COLLAPSE OF THE "CO-OP."

Trial of the Bellamy Plan in Decatur Given Up.

Decatur has given the Edward Bellamy idea of the co-operative boarding house a pretty thorough test at "The Roby" during the past 20 months and as far as it went the trial has been satisfactory to a considerable number of people, but now the "Co-Op." is no more. The last meal on that plan was served to the 23 remaining boarders Saturday evening, then the responsibility of the manager and the house committee terminated, all of the patrons taking their meals at their homes, or at The Roby, which is now under the management of Mrs. Boyer in the dining hall department, the new rates being $4 per week.

There have been rumors for some months that the co-operative plan would be given up sooner or later. Those who had left the institution months ago would occasionally chat with the reporters and remark that the "Co-Op." would soon collapse, but information from the faithful was to the effect that there was no thought of giving up the plan. And up to Friday evening no one who took meals at the tables, except the officials, believed that the institution would wink out. That day the executive board of the association, of which F. W. Anderson was president and Miss Mary W. French secretary, held a meeting, and decided to capitulate, surrender, vacate, give up, quit the Bellamy plan, and that evening the members of the association were notified that they would have to make other arrangements. Some of the boarders were prepared for the announcement, others were not, and those who were recent recruits at $3 a week, were considerably disappointed, but the decision was irrevocable, the edict had gone forth, and Saturday night, as before stated, the "Co-Op" became a back number.

When the institution was established there were 52 patrons of the table and the rate was $2.50 per boarder a week and the affairs were so nicely managed that good service was had, the table supplied with the best the market afforded, and the receipts just sufficient to meet the bills, with enough left to pay the lady manager $10 a week. There was no provision made for absent ones to pay their board while away, as it was believed that if anybody was away a week or a month the place could be supplied and the receipts would remain the same; but the first summer quite a number went away for the cooler places of the North and then there was hustling to secure persons to fill the vacant chairs. In a measure the efforts were successful, but finally, the receipts growing short, and it being the desire of the management to keep the table up to the standard the rate of board was raised to $2.75 a week. Later the price was elevated to $3 a week and there it remained until very recently, when the rate was fixed without protest at $3.50 per week. The present summer an unusually large number of the "Co-Op" people have been away on outing trips from a month to six weeks, and in consequence of their absence the patrons were reduced to 23 people, the receipts for the last two weeks at $3.50 per boarder being $80.50 per week, the transient patronage increasing the sum to something like $90. The help cost the management $9 for the cook, $10 for the manager, $6 for the waiter who is said to have done the work of two waiters, and $3 for another waiter, making a total of $28 each week, which sum deducted from the receipts of $90, left but $62 to supply the substantials and delicacies for the table, less than $7 a day, not counting the additional expenditures for incidentals. The reporter is told that actual expenses for supplying the table the last few weeks have been $8 to $10 a day. Thus the most casual observer will see that the figuring to keep even has been decidedly close. It is no wonder the executive board became nervous. And then when one family of five persons, who had been among the charter members of the institution, gave notice that they would leave this week to board elsewhere, the board at once concluded to disband the association.

In a chat with one of the early members of the association, a gentleman who lives some distance from The Roby, the reporter was told that he considered the Bellamy idea a good one, but he did not think it could be operated successfully in a city the size of Decatur. He thought it would work better where 10 or 20 families lived in a large apartment house in a block, so that the dining hall and accessories would be easy of access. Patrons who reside in a remote part of the city, he said, soon weary of the long walks in bad weather, winter and summer, and they soon learn the comforts of a home, and go back to the old way of living, feeling that that is the best way after all.

Mrs. Guyton was seen. She felt that the failure to keep up the association would prove a great disappointment to a large number of people who liked the plan and appreciated the service. She thought the executive board lacked nerve. Had the "co-op" continued, she said, until fall, when the people and teachers returned to the city, more than 50 patrons would be added to the list and then there would be smooth sailing again. She assured the reporter that the association had paid its way, that no one had lost anything by its existence, but many dollars had been saved in the way of living expenses by the different families who had occupied seats at the table.

It goes without saying there will now be a flood of wants in the city papers for 'good girls to do general housework."

A Butterfly Social.

A "butterfly social" is one of the novel entertainments for raising funds in charitable work. The room is decorated with butterflies of tissue paper, and in the center of the ceiling a huge butterfly of wire and thin silk or paper is suspended, some three feet from one wing tip to the other. The legs of the insect are of wire, painted black. Those who preside over the affair are dressed to resemble different varieties of butterflies, in blue and silver chiffon, black, brown and yellow velvet, with gauze wings and a butterfly for a headdress.—Exchange.

Steel Rails as Pit Props.

In consideration of the serious inroads which are being made on the timber of this country by the use of wooden props in mines, it is satisfactory to note that a patent has been taken out for a method of making steel rails into pit props and supports for collieries, mines, tunnels, bridges, etc. The rails are cut at their ends and suitably framed together. In point of cost it is said that this mode of propping compares favorably with bricking and other systems.—New York Commercial Advertiser.

DEATH OF MRS. W. T. STAMPER.

A Good Woman Gone to Her Reward—Sketch of Her Life.

Mrs. Ann M. Stamper, wife of William T. Stamper, who has been seriously ill for nine months, passed away in death Sunday, August 30, at noon, at the family home, 305 West Main street, in the 63d year of her age, attended by her devoted husband, her daughters and friends, who had made her last days as free from suffering as possible. Last November Mrs. Stamper visited her daughters at Wichita, Kansas, and while there she was prostrated by an attack of la grippe from which she partly recovered, but she was never strong again, and death resulted from a complication of diseases.

The deceased was a native of Oldham county, Ky., where she was born Nov. 23, 1828. She came to Decatur with her father, Henry Snyder, when she was but five years old, in 1833, and two years later her mother died. January 15, 1846, Miss Snyder became the wife of W. T. Stamper, the late Rev. W. S. Crissey performing the ceremony. To the couple were born eight children, four of whom survive. They are Miss Josephine Stamper, of Decatur, Mrs. A. W. Oliver, of Wichita, Kansas, Mrs. Charles G. Martin of Decatur, and Mrs. F. W. Oliver, of Wichita, Kansas. The surviving brothers of the deceased are William Snyder, of Arcola, Ill., and Albert E. Snyder, of Longton, Kansas. Mrs. Edmiston McClellan, of Decatur, is her only surviving sister.

Mrs. Stamper was a consistent member of the First Methodist Episcopal church, and was a woman of many noble qualities. She was devoted to her home, was a friend of the needy and those in distress and possessed many attributes of gentleness and kindness which endeared her to all who enjoyed her acquaintance. The life Mrs. Stamper lived in this community for 58 years will not be forgotten and the influence she exerted as a mother will be of lasting memory in the home circle, and since death belongs to all alike, may that transition stage be "a suburb of the life Elysian, whose portal we call death" and may the hope of a Christian inspire us with the thought that

"Beyond this vale of tears
There is a life above,
Unmeasured by the flight of years;
And all that life is love."

The funeral will take place from the residence at 10 a. m. Wednesday, September 2d.

TOOK UP A COLLECTION.

Close of the Decatur Chautauqua—A Failure Financially.

The ten days Decatur Chautauqua, started and bossed by Manager Mann, closed at Oakland Park Sunday night in the presence of a large audience. At the forenoon hour Mrs. Mary T. Lathrop gave a gospel temperance sermon, and in the afternoon Col. Trevelick occupied the platform, followed by Mrs. Lathrop, who made a strong appeal for a generous contribution. She said the meeting financially had been a failure, that the speakers had not been paid in full, that the gate keepers were not paid, and neither had those in charge of the eating tent been compensated. Mrs. Lathrop said she was willing to give $25 due her and Col. Trevelick would be short $40 by his donation. The lady felt that there were five or six people in the audience who were well able to give $10 each. Then the collectors were sent out in the crowd to receive contributions. The amount given was announced at $17.

At night Mrs. Lathrop spoke to a large audience and the meetings came to a close.

Reception of Probationers.

The services at Stapp's Chapel were very largely attended Sunday, both morning and evening, the seating capacity of the large auditorium being taxed to its utmost. The new pipe organ no doubt had something to do with drawing the people, but nevertheless they were treated to two grand sermons by the pastor and excellent music by the choir, with Miss Anna Belle Henkle at the organ.

The morning subject was "Elements of Christian Life and Character." Text: Colossians 1st chapter, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th verses. This was a very fitting and appropriate subject for the occasion, for at the close of the service 37 probationers were admitted to full membership. The speaker plainly showed that the permanent elements in a christian life and character were knowledge and conduct. Rev. Scrimger was assisted in the reception of the probationers by Evangelist Black who conducted the meetings here last winter.

The church was nicely decorated by the Endeavor floral committee.

At His Old Home.

C. W. Montgomery, the real estate agent, was born and raised in Statesville, North Carolina, a mile from which place there occurred last Thursday morning one of the most frightful railroad wrecks in the history of the country. It almost equaled the terrible T., P. & W. wreck at Chatsworth. The train went through a stone bridge, ninety feet in hight, and twenty-five were killed outright and seventeen injured. Mr. Montgomery visited his old home several years ago and visited the place where the accident of last Thursday occurred.

DIED.

On August 29, at the family residence, 8 miles northeast of Decatur, in Oakley township, of typhoid malarial fever, Edgar Hiser, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hiser, aged 19 years, 1 month and 11 days.

Rev. J. H. Crowder conducted the funeral today from the Fairview church.

MARRIED.

At the residence of John G. Hamilton, 30, one mile southeast of Decatur, on August 30, 1891, by Rev. Wm. Crowder, Mr. Charles E. Hamilton, son of John G. Hamilton, of Decatur, to Miss Ida B. Hamilton, of Decatur.

"Into the Land Which No One Knows."

Died—At the residence of Dr. Miller, of Lincoln, Ill., August 29, 1891, of heart disease, Miss Florence L. Carter.

To Miss Carter's friends in Decatur who for years have known and loved her this information will bring a sadness which comes only with the knowledge that a loved one has gone out from us, to come not back for ever more.

She was in the bloom of ripe womanhood, with a mind of superior excellence and beauty, a rare love of truth and justice and a nature of such characteristics that those who loved her were bound to her by more than an ordinary devotion; but physically she was not strong and for many years has been somewhat of an invalid.

Notwithstanding this, she was almost constantly engaged in the laborious work of teaching, and amidst her own sufferings she preserved a touching sympathy for those in distress—one of the last acts of her life being to insist that a beggar who asked alms at her door might receive more liberally than had been given her.

She was brought up in the Episcopal church, her love for it being one of the early and beautiful developments of her nature, and during the last few months of her life her interest in her church took on renewed interest and pleasure.

One of the rarely beautiful things in her character was her intense love for her mother, the loss of whom in early life cast a sadness which was never dispelled. We find in some lines written soon after her mother's death—lines set to music and sung by many a sweet voice in happy homes—these touching words:

Weary of living, so weary,
Longing to lie down and die,
To find for the sad heart and dreary
The end of the pilgrimage nigh.

This weariness did not pass out of her life, and while her bright intellect was full of beautiful thoughts and a quick perception of the beautiful in nature and in art, her heart was weary until, at times, her entire being seemed like the charming but sorrowful Keats to breathe out his own wish when he says: "Many a time I have been half in love with easeful Death; called him soft names in many a mused rhyme, to take into the air my quiet breath." And he did take into the air her quiet breath.

On the evening following one of more than ordinary social pleasure, when she had appeared lovely in person, charming all who met her with her rare conversation, she retired to her room, saying to her intimate friend, "Come in a little while and I will hear the rest you have to say; I am tired now." In a little while her friend, hearing her voice, went quickly, not to finish what she had been saying, but to catch in loving arms the falling form, whose breath had been taken into the air—into the air; to mingle forever with the restful, the fair.

Her pale, sweet face and form lie amidst beautiful flowers in the home of her childhood's friend, Mrs. J. F. Roach, awaiting the final laying away to rest.

THE EXTRA SESSION

Of the Tennessee Legislature and the Work It is Called to Do.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 30.—The extra session of the general assembly of Tennessee will convene at noon to-morrow. The chief business to come before the body is the settling of the questions that have grown out of the recent trouble between the miners and convicts at Briceville, referring to the abolition of the lease system, and to the rebuilding and enlarging of the state prison.

The lease system, as now operated, yields the state $100,000 per annum, and if it is abolished the tax rate must be increased. There is a strong sentiment among the members of the assembly against the change. The military laws are to be changed so as to give the executive more power in emergencies like that at Briceville. The body will be in session twenty days, but it is not thought the work before it can be attended to in that time. If not an extraordinary session will be called.

A committee representing the miners of the state will be in constant attendance during the session, their object being to secure the abrogation of the lease system or the passage of such laws as will keep convicts from being sub-leased to any mining company that will pay for their services.

The Late Frosts in North and South Dakota.

HURON, S. D., Aug. 31.—The United States weather bureau is in receipt of reports from thirty-one South Dakota and fifteen North Dakota counties which show frost to have done less damage than expected. The warm days with some rain following the frost greatly benefited corn and late flax. Corn that was damaged is cut for fodder. Over all South Dakota the damage will not exceed 10 per cent. Threshing is in progress and the yield of wheat and oats is invariably greater than estimated. In North Dakota the harvest is progressing slowly, grain ripening only moderately because of cool weather.

A Fatal Beginning.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Aug. 31.—The current was turned on the West Bridge-street electric railroad Saturday for the first time, and within an hour a man and his horse were killed. George E. Heydorn's team became frightened and ran against a telegraph pole. A small copper wire strung on the pole was broken by the shock and fell across the street railroad trolley wire. The loop end struck one of the horses and it began to stagger. Heydorn jumped from his seat to the horse's head and the wire came into contact with his neck, and both man and horse were killed before the deadly current could be cut off.

Editor Peter Wallrath at the Grand—A Growing Order.

Editor Peter Wallrath, publisher of the leading German paper at Logansport, gave an address Sunday evening at the Grand Opera House, in the presence of a large audience, under of the auspices of St. Patrick's Branch, No. 464, Catholic Knights of America, of which Henry Housang is president. The Very Rev. Father Mackin and Father Brennan were on the stage, and both followed with brief talks after the visiting orator had concluded his lecture. Editor Wallrath, who is a natural orator, devoted his lecture to a review of the order of the Catholic Knights of America, stating that it was formed in 1877 at Louisville, Kentucky, largely at the suggestion of Archbishop Feehan, of Chicago, then a resident of Nashville, Tenn. It came into existence because there were many societies on the life insurance plan being formed throughout the country, societies which did not take in all classes, societies which debarred men engaged in hazardous occupations. The Catholic Knights, the speaker said, shut out no one, no matter what his occupation might be. It takes in white and black alike, and its jurisdiction is the whole of America. There are now 547 branches of the society in America, with a total membership of 20,000. The sinking fund amounts to $165,000. The assessments $2,000 life insurance ranges from 70 cents to $3.00 a month, and each assessment pays for seven deaths, five per cent. of each assessment each month being set apart to go into the sinking fund to be used in case of emergency to pay the full face of policies. A man 35 years of age carrying $2,000 is required to pay $30 a year.

The Decatur Branch is steadily increasing in membership, each new recruit at once appreciating the opportunity offered to secure cheap life insurance.

PUBLIC NOTICE.

The Presbyterian Real Estate Sale.

The sale will begin to-morrow, Tuesday, September 1st, at 2 o'clock p. m., at the corner of North Main and North streets. Terms: One-third cash; balance in five years.

There will be no by-bidding. The sale will be absolute and perfectly fair. No arrangement has been made or will be made to run the price up or protecting the property from sacrifice. We are without any assurance as to what the property will bring, and will sell it on its merits only.

When the old church property is sold the movable property within the church will not be sold with the building, but the purchaser of the realty can buy the following articles for one hundred dollars, to-wit: The pews, pulpit, carpets, matting, cushions, furnace, gas fixtures, stoves and pipe organ.

The bell and other movables not above mentioned will not be sold.

POSSESSION.

Unless we can make a satisfactory arrangement with the purchaser of the old church for a limited use of it, we will retain the possession until we can get into our new building, not later, however, than January 1st, 1892, probably December 1st, 1892. [Signed]

THE TRUSTEES OF THE FIRST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH.

CAPTAIN ANDREWS, who started in his little dory, Mermaid, to race across the Atlantic with an equally rash navigator in another small craft, can count himself fortunate in being picked up by a British steamer just as his strength had completely given out. His competitor reached the English Channel on August 5, and but for the opportune happening along of the Eburg, Captain Andrews might have lost not only his race but his life. It is time that so called races of that sort ceased. They are as senseless as they are dangerous, and of no earthly use to anybody.

THE New York Evening Post graciously admits that "the President had a great opportunity, and he improved it" when he made his Albany speech against the free coinage heresy. And, by the way, does not Mr. Harrison generally improve his opportunities to say timely and sensible things?

A NEW organization has been formed in Paris called the "Women's Joint Responsibility Club."
